

Community works 2024

About the collection:

I've always believed that art and any form of creativity can be used to uplift people. It can be a voice, a comfort or it can bring people together. In a time when my future was uncertain I decided to try and use my creativity to help others. I also wanted to start my career as an artist and I believe that starting off with charity and humility will set the tone for the rest of my career.

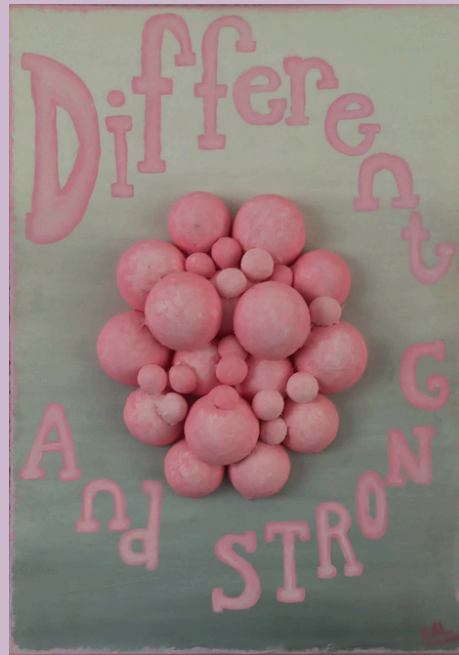

Each of the paintings were created by consulting with people from non-profit organisations that I believe in. They were then donated to each cause.

The first was 'the true hero's' which was donated to the Middelburg State vet, who help low income families take care of their furry friends. Then was 'The most beautiful brain' which was donated to the Arrayah Centre, a school for special needs children and teens. Third was the 'Tribute to Gerard Sekoto' which was donated to the Middelburg Gerard Sekoto Public Library. Last but not least was 'The hopeful child' which was donated to the Middelburg care village.

Artworks:

The hopeful child, 2024
A2 Acrylic on canvas

The most beautiful brain, 2024
A2, Acrylic and polystyrene on canvas

The true heros, 2024
A2, Collage and acrylic on canvas

Tribute to Gerard Sekoto, 2024
A3, Acrylic on Canvas

Feature:

March - Vol 25, Ed 3

R23.00

Available to purchase via:

<https://themuslimwomanmagazine.company.site/>